uniLink-Trio2 combines all the latest USB connector standards into one simple and uncompromising plug. On one end, it has a USB-C connector and an adapter for USB-A, so it can connect to regular USB ports. On the other end, it has a Micro-USB connector, as well as adapters for both Lightning and a second USB-C connector. This makes it a versatile all-in-one cable for all your compatible devices. You can use it to charge different gadgets or even transfer data and sync your files. Made with durable materials, the uniLink-Trio2 can be used reliably and safely for a long time. It's the last USB cable you will ever need.
